2015 Assembly Bill 212 relates to acts of concealment and misrepresentations in filing for or claiming unemployment insurance benefits.

2015 ASSEMBLY BILL 212

Assembly Bill 212 creates a period of disqualification for unemployment insurance benefits if a person commits acts of concealment or impersonation in applying for benefits, among other consequences under current law.

Specifically, the bill provides that if a person commits an act of concealment in a new benefit year, after having already committed an act of concealment in a prior benefit year, the person is ineligible for unemployment insurance benefits for seven years.

Likewise, the bill provides that if a person commits a second act of impersonation, after having already committed an act of impersonation, the person is ineligible for unemployment insurance benefits for seven years.

ASSEMBLY AMENDMENT 4

Assembly Amendment 4 specifies that the Department of Workforce Development (DWD) is not permitted to apply the disqualification periods if those provisions would negatively affect federal funding or the federal tax credit for employers.

Assembly Amendment 4 also specifies that the effective date of the bill is delayed until the first Sunday of the seventh month after enactment of the bill.

ASSEMBLY AMENDMENT 1 TO ASSEMBLY AMENDMENT 4

Assembly Amendment 1 to Assembly Amendment 4 allows earlier implementation by DWD than the six-month delay given in Assembly Amendment 4 if the department is ready to implement the provisions and publishes a notice of that earlier implementation in the Wisconsin Administrative Register.
