11. Policy Problem Addressed by the Rule This rule project establishes the required minimum hours of the 1,000 face-to-face client contact hours which must include diagnosis and treatment of individuals based on the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM) that a licensed clinical social worker must complete as part of their required post graduate clinical practice. The rule project also brings the code into alignment with the statute by removing the requirement that the 3,000 clinical practice hours must be completed within two years.

15. Benefits of Implementing the Rule and Alternative(s) to Implementing the Rule The benefits of implementing the rule are that clinical social work applicants and stakeholders will have greater clarity as to how many of the required 1,000 face-to-face client contact hours must include diagnosis and treatment of individuals based on the DSM. It will also give applicants greater flexibility in terms of the time available for completing their 3,000 clinical practice hours. The alternative of implementing the rule is that the rules will not provide applicants with a minimum number of face-to-face client contact hours that must involve diagnosis and treatment of individuals based on the DSM. Further, if the rule is not implemented, applicants will be unnecessarily constrained in the time period they have to complete their 3,000 clinical practice hours.

16. Long Range Implications of Implementing the Rule

The long range implications of implementing the rule are that clinical social workers will have clarity as to how many of their 1,000 face-to-face client contact hours must include diagnosis and treatment of individuals based on the DSM, and will not be limited to a two year period in which to complete their 3,000 clinical practice hours.

17. Compare With Approaches Being Used by Federal Government

The federal government does not set requirements for social worker licensure.

18. Compare With Approaches Being Used by Neighboring States (Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Minnesota)

Illinois:

Applicants for licensure as a clinical social worker must complete 3,000 hours of satisfactory, supervised professional experience if they hold a master's degree, and 2,000 hours of satisfactory, supervised professional experience if they hold a doctorate degree. Illinois does not specify that a portion of the required hours involve face-to-face client contact or DSM diagnosis and treatment of individuals. (Ill. Admin Code s. 1470.20)

Iowa:

Applicants for licensure as a licensed independent social worker, the Iowa equivalent to a clinical social worker, must complete at least 4,000 hours of supervised social work practice, which shall include psychosocial assessments, including evaluation of symptoms and behaviors and the effects of the environment on behavior, as well as diagnostic practice and treatment using the current edition of the DSM. The rules do not specify how many hours must involve diagnostic practice and treatment. (Iowa Admin Code s. 645-280.6(154C))

Michigan:

Applicants for licensure as a clinical social worker must complete at least 4,000 hours of post-degree social work experience accrued over not less than 2 years. Qualifying experience must include one or more of the following activities: assessment, treatment, and intervention methods that utilize a specialized and formal interaction between a social worker and an individual, a couple, a family, or a group in which a professional relationship is established; advocating for care; protecting the vulnerable; providing forensic practice functions; increasing social well-being; providing education, and resources; providing psychotherapy; providing case management for complex and high-risk cases; serving on community committees; and, providing clinical supervision or direction of clinical programs. The rules do not specify how many hours must involve diagnostic practice and treatment. (Mich. Admin Code R338.2953)

Minnesota:

Applicants for licensure as a licensed independent clinical social worker must have accrued at least 4,000 hours of postgraduate clinical practice, including at least 1,800 hours of direct clinical client contact. There are no specific requirements as to how many hours must involve diagnostic practice and treatment. (Minn. Stats. 148E.115)
