SUBJECT: Testimony in favor of Senate Bill 469 (Assembly Bill 592)

Thank you Chairman Cowles and Committee members for holding a hearing on Senate Bill 469 (Assembly Bill 592). Representative Keith Ripp and I appreciate the opportunity to submit testimony and discuss this bipartisan legislation which protects property owners from deed processing scams.

Over the last few years, unsuspecting homeowners have been targeted by unscrupulous businesses that attempt to solicit a fee for providing a copy of a public record. Under current law, individuals may request a copy of a public record from a state agency or local unit of government. In many cases there is a minimal fee or no fee at all. These scam artists are using misleading tactics that attempt to reproduce government documents to prey on new and existing homeowners. Wisconsin Statute needs to reflect the ever changing times and creativity of those who wish to scam our constituents.

Senate Bill 469 (Assembly Bill 592) stipulates that a business or individual soliciting a fee for providing a copy of a record shall state on the top of the document used for the solicitation, in at least 24-point type, the following information:

1. The solicitation is not from a state agency or local unit of government
2. No action is legally required by the person being solicited
3. The information necessary to contact the state agency or local unit of government that has custody of the record.
4. The name and physical address of the business or individual soliciting the fee

Moreover, this legislation disallows a business or individual from using deadline dates to alarm constituents into action. Lastly, Senate Bill 469 requires that any business or individual that attempts to charge a fee for a copy of the public record, cannot charge more than 4 times the amount charged by the state or local unit of government. The Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection will be able to investigate violations- showing scam artists that the State of Wisconsin takes consumer protection seriously.

During this hearing, you will hear many examples of these types of scams as well as testimony from local government service agencies that have firsthand knowledge of these situations.

Once again, thank you for the opportunity to submit testimony in favor of Senate Bill 469.

TO: SENATE COMMITTEE ON ENERGY, CONSUMER PROTECTIONS AND GOVERNMENT REFORM
FROM: REPRESENTATIVE GARY HEBL
RE: SUPPORT FOR 2013 SB 469
DATE: JANUARY 15, 2014

Chairman Cowles, thank you holding a hearing on SB 469. I would also like to thank Representative Ripp and Senator Olsen for authoring this legislation.

The issue of deceptive consumer solicitations that charge consumers exorbitant fees for public records was first brought to my attention by several of my clients in the course of my legal practice. I represent many new homeowners in my private practice who were alarmed by solicitations they received in the mail that appeared to be from a governmental office and implied that the property owner must attain a copy of their deed in order to confirm their ownership interest in their property. The solicitations often contain a phony deadline by which the property owner must purchase a copy of their deed or else suffer some potentially adverse consequence.

The solicitations sent to my clients offered to provide a copy of their deed for $89, even though the Dane County Register of Deeds charges only a few dollars for a deed copy. According to the Wisconsin Register of Deeds Association (WRDA), property owners across the state have received similar solicitations for the past several years. What is clear from all of these solicitations is that they are misleading, overpriced and offer nothing of real value to the consumers whom they solicit. These solicitations are presented in a format to appear as if they originate from a government office and require some affirmative action by the consumer.

Wisconsin has long prided itself on creating a healthy commercial environment that rewards honest businesses and treats consumers fairly. As a result, we have some of the strongest consumer protection laws in the country that help to promote transparent commercial transactions. Unfortunately, a few unscrupulous businesses have found a way around these laws in order to try and fool consumers into purchasing wholly unnecessary and overpriced services with these deceptive, but legal, public record solicitations.

The passage of SB 469 will put an end to these deceptive practices by enacting the following provisions: (1) requiring adequate disclaimer provisions on such solicitations; (2) prohibiting any attempt to make the solicitation appear to come from a government entity or impose a deadline; (3) limiting the fees that can be charged; (4) requiring solicitors to provide notice to the local Register of Deeds so that the Register of Deed can put property owners on notice regarding these solicitations; and, (5) empowering the Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (DATCP) and the Department of Justice (DOJ) to bring legal action against any solicitors that violate the provisions of the bill.

This legislation was crafted with the valuable input of DATCP, DOJ and the Wisconsin Register of Deeds Association so that it best protects Wisconsin consumers and promotes fair business practices. I am very pleased to see that it has garnered strong bipartisan support and I encourage members of the committee to join the many cosponsors of SB 469 and support this worthwhile legislation.

Testimony on Senate Bill 469

Representative Keith Ripp

Senate Committee on Energy, Consumer Protection, and Government Reform

I want to thank Chairman Cowles and committee members for allowing me to present testimony today in favor of Senate Bill 469.

Senator Olsen and I have authored this legislation at the request of our Register of Deeds to address a growing scamming issue in Wisconsin. Over the past few years, there has been a significant increase in deed-processing schemes that target new and existing homeowners. Homeowners receive official-looking notices recommending they obtain a deed to their home in order to confirm their ownership in the property for a fee of $80-$90. However, these deeds are often readily available for almost no cost from the local Register of Deeds.

I have included a few examples of these scam notices from Dane, Washington, and Winnebago counties with my testimony. As you can see, the document is official in nature and misleading for several reasons.

1. The letter refers to a "Local Records Office." This title can be misleading, especially to new homeowners who have just moved into the area. The "Local Records Office" is not the Register of Deeds.
2. The letter includes detailed property information. This property information is public record, but serves as another way for these companies to make themselves seem official.
3. The letter includes a fee and a "please respond by" date. The date included appears as a false deadline. The fee, typically between $80-$90, is also far more than the local Register of Deeds would charge for the same document.
 - a. While not included in any of these examples, some letters contain a fictional "Final Notice" date with an equally fictional $35 late fee.

For new homeowners, the home-purchasing process is filled with extensive paperwork at every stage. Receiving a notice like this in the mail can confuse homeowners into purchasing documents they do not absolutely need for fees that are unrealistically high. During one of the most significant and confusing processes of life, it is important that we protect new and existing homeowners from this scam.

SB 469 does the following:

1. It would require that any solicitation of a fee provide a copy of a public record include a disclaimer. The disclaimer must:
 - a. Appear in at least 24-point font.
 - b. Include language explaining that the company is not affiliated with a government and that action and payment are entirely voluntary.
 - c. Include contact information for the governmental office that has custody of the public record.
 - d. Include the fee/cost that said governmental office would charge for the same document.
2. It prohibits solicitors from using documentation in a form that makes it appear to be from a government agency or from imposing a legal duty on the solicited person.
3. It prohibits the solicitor from charging any more than four times what the Register of deeds would charge for the same document.
4. It requires the solicitor to provide a copy of their solicitation document to the local Register of Deeds 15 days before sending it out. The Register of Deeds is not required to keep the copy.
5. It gives DATCP and/or the Department of Justice the ability to bring action against any solicitor that violates the provisions of the bill.
 - a. It also allows the court to order refunds of moneys paid to a violator -AND-
 - b. It also creates a forfeiture of up to $100 for each document that violates the provisions of the bill.

Thank you members, I ask for your support and I would be more than happy to answer any questions.

Real Estate Property Records (also called property ownership records) is public information in the United States of America, which means anyone can access it. Real property records are generally filed with and kept on a county level; they originate from two major governmental sources: County Recorder's or Courthouse. Acquiring property information or running a title search used to intend going to the local recorder's office, waiting for hours and often filling out forms and paying a fee for each copy of a property record. Property Transfer Services's high-speed online communications and secure e-commerce have made it possible to employ electronic property searches and deliver millions of real property records in a timely fashion. In addition to deeds; Property Transfer Services also prepares property reports for homeowners; including comparable sales data, transaction history, nearby neighbors, schools, and crime rates, Property Transfer Services also offers street maps and satellite images, county officials and demographic information. Our traditional searches are limited to County and State.

What is Real Property? The rights that one individual has in land or goods to the exclusion of all others; rights gained from the ownership of wealth. Property includes all those things and rights which are the object of ownership. Real property consists of land or anything attached to or a part of the land such as a house. Real property is commonly known as Real Estate, Property that becomes an integral part of a building such as heating and air conditioning units is also considered to real property. All other property such as stocks, bonds, jewelry is called personal property - our agency deals wholly with general real estate, and particularly with real estate property records.

What are Real Property Records? Real Property Records contain all of the recorded data associated with a particular Real Estate. Real Property definition includes many different types of properties such as residential, condominium, commercial, industrial, vacant land, mobile home, and time-shares.

What is Property Title? Evidence that the ownership of Real Estate is in lawful possession and evidence of ownership; it is the owner's right to possess and use the property.

What is a Property Deed? A written document properly signed and delivered, that conveys title to the real property. There are several types of deeds: General Warranty Deed, Quitclaim Deed, Special Warranty Deed, Grant Deed, Trustee's Deed and others.

Forms of Property Ownership: Real property can be held in several different methods, which affect income tax, estate tax, continuity, liability, survivorship, transferability, disposition at death and at bankruptcy. Most recognizable property ownership types are:

Tenancy in severalty: Ownership of property by one person or one legal entity.

Join tenancy with right of survivorship: Two or more persons own a property. A joint tenant with the common law right of survivorship means the survivor inherits the property without reference to the decedent's will. Creditors may sue to have the property divided to settle claims against one of the owners.

Tenancy by the entireties: A husband and wife own the property with the common law right of survivorship so, if one dies, the other automatically inherits.

Tenancy in common: Two or more persons own the property with no right of survivorship; each has an undivided interest. If one dies, his interest passes to his heirs, not necessarily the co-owner. Either party, or a creditor of one, may sue to partition the property.

Other Real Estate forms of ownership are business kinds such as: Corporation, Limited Partnership, Partnership, Real Estate Investment Trust, and Subchapter S Corporation. Practically all types of real estate can be held under virtually all forms of ownership.

Record are available at your local county recorder for a nominal fee; however you will need to go to the county recorder's office in person. You will not be able to receive a profile report as this is proprietary and only deliverable upon purchase of our services.

"Certified copies of property deeds are available at the county clerk's office. The county clerk's office may charge a small fee for certified copies of such deeds, usually between two and four dollars a page. Since most property deeds are between two and five pages in length, a certified copy can usually be obtained for between four and twenty dollars."

Scam alert: Deeds offered at inflated price

JANUARY 25, 2013 6:00 AM • BY ALISON BAUTER

RACINE COUNTY — Need a deed? For $83 you can order one from an out-of-state company. But hurry! After Feb. 1, there's a $35 fee.

Sound fishy? It should. County Register of Deeds Tyson Fettes said Thursday that a letter from Washington D.C.-based "Secure Document" has been arriving in citizens' mailboxes advertising just that.

The problem, said Fettes, is that all deeds are easily available to the public through the county, and they generally cost just $5.

"Essentially, we're concerned that this company is taking advantage of our citizens," said Fettes, adding that although the letter Secure Document sends out might look official, it's designed to mislead.

"This thing looks like it's a government document. It looks like it's kind of serious," he said.

The notice tells homeowners that the company will process deeds to their property for $83, but that people should act fast before prices go up in February.

In reality, there is no deadline to order a deed, Fettes said. More importantly, the county makes deeds easily available either at the courthouse, 730 Wisconsin Ave., at the county's Burlington service center, 209 N. Main St., or by going online and downloading them from the Register of Deeds' website on racineco.com.

For an older document, the charge from the county is $10; all other deeds are just $5.

When it comes to paying an exorbitant price to process those deeds through a third-party company, Fettes said, residents "can rest assured this is not something they need to do."

Any questions or concerns can be brought to the county's attention by calling (262) 636-3208.

Company charging $59.50 for $3 copy of your deed

By RICK BARRETT - Posted: Nov. 4, 2005

<http://www.jsonline.com/bym/news/nov05/368268.asp>

Milwaukee area property owners are receiving a letter from National Deed Service Inc. offering to get them a copy of their deed for $55 plus $4.50 for postage and handling.

"If you don't already have this most important document, you should obtain one now," notes the letter with a Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D.C., address on its letterhead.

But, most likely, you already have a copy of your deed because it was included in that thick file of papers that came with your mortgage. If not, the Milwaukee County register of deeds office will provide a copy for only $3, plus an extra fee for multiple-page deeds.

The National Deed Service offer isn't illegal, but it is way too expensive, said John La Fave, register of deeds.

"My staff is getting upset because they know that people are getting ripped off," he said. "But we can't say 'no' when a company comes in and orders these deed copies" because the documents are public records.

The Better Business Bureau has called La Fave's staff to ask what they charge for deed copies.

"We received an order this week for copies of 89 deeds from a person that we think is from National Deed Service", La Fave said. "Our charge for the 89 deeds to him was $287. His gross revenue from the public for those 89 copies probably totals $5,295.50. We also have gotten calls from people inquiring about our fees because they received the letter."

The National Deed Service letter circulating in the Milwaukee area says the company is not affiliated with any government agency and that many government records are available for free or at a nominal cost from government agencies.

So why does the company charge $59.50 for something that people could get themselves for about $3? "It's a service, that's all," said Barry Isaacson, who works with the company in the Chicago area.

"It's just like Peapod charges to deliver groceries. I don't mean to be hostile, but I have been getting calls, and I don't realize why people don't understand that we are just providing a service."

National Deed Service has made similar offers in Nevada, Florida, Texas and other states." Absolutely we have been getting business in Milwaukee, Isaacson said.

"And absolutely people could get their own deed copy," he said. "Nobody says they can't." Peapod charges between $6.95 and $9.95 to deliver groceries to your home.

There's no reason why anyone should pay $59.50, including postage, for a copy of their property deed, said Sheila Adkins with the Better Business Bureau national office in Arlington, Va.

"This company might have purchased mailing lists and is targeting people in your area to see if anyone bites," she said. "It sounds like they are just trying to get money for something that people could get much cheaper on their own."
