ADMINISTRATIVE RULES

Fiscal Estimate & Economic Impact Analysis

- Requirements that specifically pertain to online continuing education programs have been created under s. Chir 5.02 (1) (cm). Specifically, an online continuing education program must require two-way real-time interactive communication between the participant and the instructor, and include a written assessment instrument and means to furnish each participant with evidence of having attended the program.
- Provisions from ss. Chir 5.02 and 5.03 concerning an application for approval of a continuing education program have been removed and consolidated into a new s. Chir 5.04. Section Chir 5.04 as created reduces the lead time required for submission of an application from 75 days to 60 days. It also provides an expedited approval process for program sponsors who successfully complete a compliance review of a random sample of continuing education programs that were approved for the previous 2-year registration period.
- Other provisions throughout ch. Chir 5 have been revised to correct references to the registration period end date, provide clarity, and conform to current drafting standards.
