

ORDER OF THE
DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND FAMILY SERVICES
AMENDING AND CREATING RULES

To amend HFS 107.13 (2) (c) 5., and (4) (c) 4.; and to create chapter HFS 36, HFS 105.257, 107.13 (6) (b) 4. and (7), relating to standards for certification and criteria for determining the need for psychosocial rehabilitation services, and other conditions of coverage of community-based psychosocial rehabilitation services under the medical assistance program.

Analysis Prepared by the Department of Health and Family Services

Statutes Interpreted: Sections 49.45 (30e), 49.46 (2) (b) 6. Lm, 51.04, 51.42 (7) (b), and 51.61, Stats.

Statutory Authority: Sections 49.45 (30e) (b), 51.42 (7) (b), and 227.11 (2) (a), Stats.

Explanation of agency authority: 1997 Wisconsin Act 27 created s. 49.45 (30e), Stats., relating to conditions for reimbursement of community-based psychosocial services programs under the medical assistance program and authorized the department to create rules establishing the scope of the psychosocial services that may be provided under s. 49.46 (2) (b) 6. Lm, Stats., standards for eligibility for those services, and certification requirements for community-based psychosocial programs under the medical assistance program. Section 49.45 (30e) (b) requires the Department to promulgate rules.

Related statute or rule: Sections 49.45 (30e), 49.46 (2) (b) 6. Lm, 51.42 (7) (b), Stats., chs. HFS 105 and 107.

Plain language analysis:

The Department through this proposed order establishes the scope of community-based psychosocial rehabilitation services programs, standards for certification and criteria for determining the need for psychosocial rehabilitation services, and other conditions of coverage of community-based psychosocial rehabilitation services under the medical assistance program as authorized by ss. 49.45 (30e) and 51.42 (7) (b), Stats. The Department anticipates that the rules created in this order will complement services provided by existing community support programs under s. 51.421, Stats., by making a fuller array of mental health and substance-use disorder services potentially available to those in need in each county or tribe. The Department further anticipates that this order will allow for the creation of a broad range of flexible, consumer-centered, recovery-oriented psychosocial rehabilitation services to both minors and adults, including elders, whose psychosocial needs require more than outpatient therapy, but less than the level of services provided by existing community support programs. Certified community-based psychosocial rehabilitation services programs that meet the requirements of s. 49.45 (30e), Stats., and this order may be fully or partially funded by medical assistance with county or tribal match. These programs may also coordinate with other existing funding sources.

Summary of, and comparison with, existing or proposed federal regulation:

The federal regulations at 42 CFR 440.130 (d) state, “Rehabilitative services,” except as otherwise provided under this subpart, includes any medical or remedial services recommended by a physician or other licensed practitioner of the healing arts, within the scope of his practice under State law, for maximum reduction of physical or mental disability and restoration of a consumer to his best possible functional level.” The Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) has interpreted this section of the regulations to include psychosocial rehabilitation services and permit development of such services as an optional Medicaid benefit in a State Medicaid plan. CMS makes a distinction in various documents between rehabilitative services of physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, etc. and psychosocial rehabilitative services.

1. 59 Illinois Administrative Code, Chapter IV, Subpart E: Rehabilitative Services

Similarities:	Differences:
1. Predicated on recovery, consumer-centered, psycho-educational model	1. Illinois’s requirements are more prescriptive (e.g., minimum staff-to-consumer ratios and minimum number of consumers per provider/program)
2. Training and services occur in the community (i.e., in situations in which the consumer has impediments to independent functioning)	2. Community Resource Development is a core service (e.g., job banks, employer councils, innovative housing initiatives)
3. Provides social skills, vocational and leisure/recreation training	3. Requirements for determining the need for services do not mention children or elders, although there is a core service for children 17 and older to transition to adult services (note: the regulations do indicate that children and their families are eligible for services if the child requires in-home or other intensive therapeutic interventions)
4. Permit peer-support and clubhouse models of delivery of services	4. Involvement of natural supports is not discussed in Illinois’s requirements
5. Providers are expected to have consumer representation on their governing/advisory boards	5. Illinois has a regional system of mental health delivery
	6. Illinois has a “client transitional subsidy” for persons being discharged from a hospital, or long-term care facility that can fund basic needs (e.g., housing, food,

Similarities:	Differences:
	medications) for up to three months to a total of $600---persons receiving these services must be enrolled in a CSP or case management
	7. The expectations for residential core services are comparable to the requirements under HFS 82 and 83
	8. Criteria for determining the need for psychosocial rehabilitation services varies based on the core service, although overall is as broad as our criteria
	9. There are general termination criteria for extended and rehabilitation services and psychosocial rehabilitation day program services that permit discharge if the consumer fails to make progress towards stated goals
	10. Providers are expected to coordinate with other mental health services, but providers are responsible only for their services; our CCS rule requires an overall county plan for mental health services
	11. Illinois's regulations are not integrated across the core services, but rather are specific to each core service

Iowa

1. Iowa Administrative Code – Chapter 24: Accreditation of Providers of Services to Persons with Mental Illness, Mental Retardation, and Developmental Disabilities
2. A conversation with James Overland, Chief of the Bureau of Community Services, Division of Behavioral, Developmental and Protective Services, Department of Human Services

The State of Iowa has a managed care system that addresses mental health, as well as physical health, needs. As a result, the administrative code addressing mental health issues is extremely brief. Their rules consist of performance benchmarks (e.g., individualized and appropriate intervention services and treatments are provided in ways that support the needs, desires, and goals identified in the service plan, and that respect the rights and choices of the individual using the service) and performance indicators (e.g., staff document in the narrative the individual's participation in the treatment program).

These performance benchmarks and indicators are globally stated and are meant to evaluate a managed care delivery system. Funding may be withheld for failure to meet the performance benchmarks or indicators. In a fee-for-service system, such as Wisconsin's, the administrative code must indicate failure to meet the requirements based on the scope and severity of deficiencies noted by a licenser, which then results in the possibility of termination or non-renewal of the provider’s license’s. Therefore, a comparison between Iowa and Wisconsin’s psychosocial rehabilitation services has marginal utility.

Michigan

1. State of Michigan Administrative Code, R 330.2005 – 330.2814, which address community mental health programs of emergency intervention services, prevention services, outpatient services, aftercare services, day program and activity services, public information services, inpatient services, and community/caregiver services.

The State of Michigan has a managed care system that addresses mental health, as well as physical health, needs. As a result, the administrative code addressing mental health issues is extremely brief. For example, the requirements for day program and activity services is only five lines long and states that these services shall include providing habilitative and rehabilitative treatment and training activity. The administrative code does not reference recovery, involvement of consumers on a governing/advisory board, etc.

Minnesota

Sources:

1. Minnesota Statutes, s. 256B.0623, Covered service: adult rehabilitative mental health services.
2. A conversation with Richard Seurer, Planning Analyst in the Mental Health Division, Department of Human Services

Similarities:	Differences:
1. We borrowed language from the Minnesota statutes regarding the mental health rehabilitation worker, which provided a definition of “peer support”.	1. Minnesota avoided the rule writing process by getting the legislature to incorporate into the statutes the language necessary to establish the benefit and provider requirements.
2. Requirements for determining the need for psychosocial rehabilitation services are comparable; however, they do not require a diagnosis of a mental illness, per se.	2. As indicated in the title for this section of their statutes, the benefit does not cover children.
3. Staff training and supervision requirements are comparable, although our rule contains specific training areas that the CCS must provide and our rule is less prescriptive regarding supervision.	3. The statutes do not contain any mention of “elders” or any specific requirements for elders.
4. The scope of services permitted under the benefit are comparable.	4. While Minnesota does a site review every three years for recertification, they only pull a small sample of records (i.e., three) and do not meet with consumers.
	5. There is no specific mention of “recovery” or “strength-based assessments” in Minnesota’s requirements.
	6. Minnesota excludes some specific services from Medicaid reimbursement that we want to offer (e.g., outreach services to potential consumers and transportation services).

Similarities:	Differences:

Summary of factual data and analytical methodologies:

If psychosocial rehabilitation services currently are being provided, then the individual consumer or the county of responsibility is paying for the cost of the services. Counties report data to the department regarding county delivered services, but only for areas of services that currently exist. Therefore, there is no data pertinent to psychosocial rehabilitation services available to the department for any analysis of services or expenditures related to the services.

Analysis and supporting documents used to determine effect on small business or in preparation of economic impact report:

The rule language was developed with input from an advisory committee comprised of county representatives, mental health advocates, consumer representatives, and mental health provider representatives. Also, a review of statutory and regulatory requirements for similar programs in surrounding states was completed, which assisted in the development of the rule.

Anticipated costs incurred by private sector:

If psychosocial rehabilitation services currently are being provided, then the individual consumer or the county of responsibility is paying for the cost of the services. This rule will permit the county of responsibility to use their existing funds that are being expended for these services as the required match to the federal portion of Medicaid funding (federal financial participation or FFP). The increase in available funding may result in an increase in revenues for a local small business if the county and the consumer select the business as a provider of a component of the psychosocial rehabilitation services for the consumer.

Effect on small business:

There will be no adverse affect on small businesses. If psychosocial rehabilitation services currently are being provided, then the individual consumer or the county of responsibility is paying for the cost of the services. This rule will permit the county of responsibility to use their existing funds that are being expended for these services as the required match to the federal portion of Medicaid funding (federal financial participation or FFP). The increase in available funding may result in an increase in revenues for a local small business if the county and the consumer select the business as a provider of a component of the psychosocial rehabilitation services for the consumer.

3. Deny certification under sub. (9), if the department finds one or more major deficiencies.

(b) Duration of certification. The department may limit the initial certification of a CCS to one year. Certification may be renewed for up to 3 years provided the CCS has applied for

(8) PROVISIONAL CERTIFICATION. (a) If the department determines that the CCS has one or more deficiencies that do not meet the definition of a major deficiency, the department shall issue a notice of deficiency to the CCS and offer the CCS provisional certification.

(b) If a CCS wishes to operate under a provisional certification, the CCS shall submit a plan of correction to the department within 30 days of the date of the notice of deficiency. The plan of correction shall identify the specific steps the CCS will take to correct the deficiency and the timeline within which the corrections will be made. If a CCS does not wish to operate under a provisional certification, the department shall issue a denial of certification under sub. (9).

(c) If the department approves the plan of correction it shall provisionally certify the CCS and establish an expiration date for the provisional certification.

(d) Before a provisional certification expires, the department may conduct an on site inspection of the CCS to determine whether the proposed corrections have been made. Upon completion of an inspection, or in place of an inspection, the department shall do one of the following:

1. If the CCS has accomplished the goals of the plan of correction and made the required corrections, withdraw the notice of deficiency and certify the CCS under sub. (7) (a) 1.

2. Extend the provisional certification if substantial progress is made towards correcting deficiencies previously cited.

3. If a deficiency cited in the notice of deficiency has not been corrected, the goals of the plan of correction have not been accomplished, or a major deficiency is found, deny certification under sub. (9).

(9) DENIAL OF CERTIFICATION. A denial of certification shall be in writing and shall contain the reason for the denial and notice of opportunity for a hearing under s. HFS 36.06 (3).

(2) INSPECTIONS. (a) The department may make announced and unannounced inspections of a certified CCS to verify compliance with this chapter, to investigate complaints received regarding the services provided by the CCS, or as part of an investigation into the cause of death of a consumer.

(b) In making inspections, the department shall seek to minimize any disruption to the normal functioning of the CCS.

(c) Any authorized officer, employee or agent of the department shall have access to all CCS documents, open and closed consumer records, staff members and consumers at any time to ensure compliance with the requirements of this chapter and other applicable federal and state statutes and regulations.

(3) APPEALS. (a) If the department denies, revokes, suspends, or refuses to renew certification, the CCS may request an administrative hearing under ch. 227, Stats. If a timely request for hearing is made on a decision to suspend or revoke or not renew a certification, that action is stayed pending the decision on the appeal except when the department finds that the health, safety or welfare of patients requires that the action take effect immediately. A finding of a requirement for immediate action shall be made in writing by the department.

(b) A request for hearing shall be submitted in writing to the department of administration's division of administrative hearings within 30 days after the date of the notice of the department's action.

Note: A request for hearing may be delivered in person or mailed to the Division of Hearings and Appeals, 5005 University Avenue, Suite 201, Madison, WI 53707-7875. An appeal may be sent by fax to the Division's facsimile transmission number at (608) 264-9885.
