ER-MRS 6.01 Base of recruitment. The administrator, in determining the most appropriate base of recruitment for classified civil service positions, shall consider such factors as: affirmative action; agency goals; staff development patterns; availability of qualified applicants in the service, agency or the employing unit, and effect on employee morale or turnover; designated promotional patterns in the classification series; availability of trained people in the labor market, including the number who have completed or are completing training for the type and level of positions; value of bringing new personnel with different backgrounds into the service; current pay; employee benefits and hiring practices for the types of positions; the interests of other agencies which may use the eligible lists; and efficiency in conducting recruitment programs and examinations.

ER-MRS 22.06 (3) or (4) or provisions of applicable labor agreements with certified bargaining units, or on seasonal layoff under s. ER-MRS 22.12 (1), shall be eligible to participate in the civil service selection process on the same basis as if the employee was not on a leave of absence or the layoff had not occurred.

ER-MRS 6.04 Employment register exception. An existing appropriate register for a class shall be used to fill all vacancies in the class, except that the administrator may authorize new recruitment and examination leading to the establishment of a different register for some positions in the class when substantial differences in the duties of those positions and the qualifications required for successful performance distinguish them from other positions in the same class. The administrator may also establish separate registers on the basis of geographic location or when program emphasis or other recognized employment considerations could be expected to attract new applicants who may be better qualified for "placement on the new register" to be established. Separate registers for different positions in the same class may also be established under s. ER-MRS 11.02.

(d) Sufficiently reliable to comply with appropriate standards for test validation; and

(e) Objectively rated or scored.
