Section 186.118, Stats.

2. Statutory Authority:

Sections 186.118, Stats.

3. Explanation of agency authority:

Section 186.118(3)(b), reads:

1. The office of credit unions shall promulgate a rule adding an activity or power to the list of activities and powers established under sub. (2) (a) if the office of credit unions determines under par. (a) that the activity or power authorized for federally chartered credit unions should also be authorized for credit unions organized under s. 186.02.

2. The office of credit unions shall submit the proposed rule under subd. 1. to the legislative reference bureau in an electronic format approved by the legislative reference bureau, and the legislative reference bureau shall publish the proposed rule in the notice section of the Wisconsin administrative register under s. 35.93.

4. Related statutes or rules:

12 C.F.R. Part 701.34, s. 186.118, Stats., and ch. DFI-CU 75, Admin. Code.

5. Plain language analysis:

This rule adds acceptance of secondary capital accounts by low-income designated credit unions as an incidental powers activity preapproved for Wisconsin-chartered credit unions. This incidental powers activity is currently authorized for federally chartered credit unions pursuant to 12 C.F.R. s. 701.34.

6. Summary of, and comparison with, existing or proposed federal regulation:

Existing federal regulations are contained in 12 C.F.R. Part 701.34. The National Credit Union Administration (“NCUA”) allows low-income designated credit unions to accept secondary capital as long as certain conditions therein are met. A “low-income” designated credit union is a credit union whose majority of members meets the NCUA’s low-income threshold as defined in Part 701.34.

7. Comparison with rules in adjacent states:

Minnesota, Illinois and Iowa have not adopted a rule but rather have comparable statutes to s. 186.118 authorizing incidental powers. Michigan by order added acceptance of secondary capital accounts by low-income designated credit unions as an incidental powers activity preapproved for its credit unions. There are currently 13 state-chartered credit unions accepting secondary capital, including one in Minnesota and one in Illinois. There are currently 68 federally-chartered credit unions with secondary capital, including one in Wisconsin, three in Illinois, two in Michigan and one in Minnesota.

8. Summary of factual data and analytical methodologies:

The Office of Credit Unions (OCU) reviewed the provisions of 12 C.F.R. Part 701.34. Proposed changes to ch. DFI—CU 75 are based on these provisions as well as staff regulatory experience. The OCU has determined that 1) it would be useful for a low-income designated state-chartered credit union to accept secondary capital, 2) accepting secondary capital is a logical outgrowth of activities or powers that are part of the business of a low-income designated credit union, 3) the risk to accept secondary capital is similar to the risk already assumed as part of the business of the credit union, and 4) it is not likely to be detrimental to the overall safety and soundness of a low-income designated credit union. The OCU will continue to monitor the activity in its routine examinations of any low-income designated state-chartered credit union that engage in this activity.
