Governor Tony Evers helped swear-in 16 new Wisconsin State Patrol officers during a graduation ceremony Friday in La Crosse. Members of the State Patrol's 64th Recruit Class recently completed 26 weeks of comprehensive training at the Wisconsin State Patrol Academy at Fort McCoy. Now that the new officers have received their marching orders, they will spend three months riding with an experienced officer before patrolling on their own.

Friday's event also allowed family and friends to share in the special occasion.

The State Patrol is still accepting applications for the 65th Recruit Class that begins training this fall. Interested candidates must apply online at Wisc.jobs by March 31, 2019.
