A new report from @GHSAHQ shines a spotlight on high-risk impaired drivers and calls for a new justice approach to help prevent repeat offenders and reduce fatalities. Report: bit.ly/HRIDreport

Defining the High-Risk Impaired Driver (HRID)

The infographic features a central dark blue car keychain with a red exclamation mark icon at the top labeled "HRID". Below the keychain are four white buttons with icons: a padlock (Lacks the restraint or self-control to resist driving impaired), a breathalyzer (Blood Alcohol Concentration (BAC) of .15 g/dL or higher), a refresh symbol (Repeat offender), and a bottle with a marijuana leaf (Polysubstance user). Lines connect these buttons to their respective text descriptions.
