Testimony in Support of Assembly Bill 169

Committee on Workforce Development, Labor, and Integrated Employment

Chaired by Representative Paul Melotik

April 9, 2025

Thank you to Chair Melotik and members of the committee for the opportunity to provide testimony today in support of Assembly Bill 169, the "Ghosting Bill." This critical legislation seeks to address a growing challenge faced by Wisconsin employers and the broader workforce—ensuring that unemployment insurance (UI) claimants are actively seeking and available for work, as required under current law.

On April 4, 2023, the residents of Wisconsin voted overwhelmingly in support of work-search requirements for able-bodied, childless adults to receive taxpayer funded benefits through an advisory referendum. In recent years, employers across Wisconsin have reported the troubling trend of job seekers failing to follow through on interview requests, job offers, or scheduled interviews—commonly referred to as "ghosting." This phenomenon has made it increasingly difficult for businesses to recruit and retain qualified employees, costing them valuable time and resources.

A 2022 Robert Half study revealed that 39% of job seekers in the U.S. have admitted to ghosting a potential employer, with 31% of them doing so even after accepting a job offer, underscoring the widespread nature of this issue. A Spring 2023 poll from job site Indeed found that 78% of applicants ghosted a prospective employer. Time, effort, and resources spent on recruiting and interviewing are lost when ghosting occurs. According to the Society of Human Resources Management (SHRM), the average cost-per-hire was approximately $4700 in 2022.

Assembly Bill 169 establishes a structured process for employers to report instances of ghosting to the Department of Workforce Development (DWD). Specifically, it allows businesses to report:

- A UI claimant who declines an interview or job offer;
- A UI claimant who fails to respond to an interview request or job offer;
- A UI claimant who does not attend a scheduled job interview without rescheduling; or

Serving the communities of Butler • Germantown • Lannon • Menomonee Falls

- A former employee who is not available to return to work.

Upon receiving such a report, DWD would be required to investigate its credibility. If a claim is found to have merit, the individual in question would be deemed ineligible for unemployment benefits for the week in which the verified ghosting incident occurred. Importantly, the bill ensures fairness by not imposing penalties for a first verified offense.

In addition to providing a mechanism for reporting and investigation, Assembly Bill 169 mandates the creation of an online portal where employers can easily file claims. DWD will also be required to submit periodic reports to the legislature detailing investigations and actions taken, fostering transparency and accountability in the UI system.

While no law can force a job seeker to attend an interview or respond to an employer, ghosting by UI claimants raises concerns about the integrity of the unemployment system. If individuals are required to be ready and willing to accept suitable work, they should not be engaging in deceptive or wasteful practices that disadvantage employers genuinely looking to hire.

I offer my thanks to Senate author, Senator Cory Tomczyk, for his leadership on this important issue. By ensuring accountability in the UI system, this legislation will help restore fairness for both job seekers and employers while promoting a stronger, more reliable workforce.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I respectfully urge you to support Assembly Bill 169 to protect taxpayer-funded resources and help Wisconsin businesses connect with the workers they need to thrive.

AB 169

Assembly Committee on Workforce Development, Labor, and Integrated Employment Wednesday, April 8, 2025

Unfortunately, we all know someone in our lives who has been out of work and had to experience unemployment. Under current law, a person who is collecting unemployment insurance (UI), must search for new employment and must make four work search actions each week. These actions can include: submitting a resume for an available job, networking, completing an online work search profile, or emailing a prospective employer.

Since the work search requirements for receiving UI benefits have been being reinstated after COVID, there has been a significant uptick in work searches, which also led to increased instances of “ghosting.”

Ghosting is when a person searching for work does not respond to an interview request by an employer OR simply does not show up to a scheduled interview. At a time where businesses are desperate for workers and are doing everything in they can to keep the doors open, getting ghosted wastes valuable time on the part of the business owner. It also defrauds the system that is meant to get individuals back into the workforce and off government assistance.

AB 169 creates a process for employers to report to DWD when ghosting occurs. They can report when a person declines an interview or job offer, when they fail to respond to a request for a job offer, or does not show up to an interview without rescheduling. If the department finds that the report is credible, the individual would not be eligible for UI benefits for that week. The bill allows the claimant three days to respond to a job interview. It also allows the claimant to promptly reschedule an interview if they missed it or canceled. Things do come up in peoples’ lives where they have to reschedule. This portion of the bill recognizes that reality. AB 169 also requires claimants to detail their job offers and interview details to DWD each week to show their progress.

AB 169 requires DWD to maintain a portal that is accessible to employers to file claims and submit a report to the Legislature outlining investigations done by the department and what actions were taken.

As a business owner, I know how difficult it can be to keep positions filled and to go through the hiring process. As a taxpayer, I want to know that unemployment claims are being used by people who cannot find stable work and are trying to do the right thing.

Unfortunately, Governor Evers vetoed this bill last session and by doing so, signaled that he is comfortable with people defrauding taxpayers. I am not – and that is why I am brining this bill back this session.

I urge you to support this commonsense bill.

Wisconsin Assembly Committee on Workforce Development and Economic Opportunities

John Mazin, Visiting Fellow
FGA Action

Chairman Melotik, members of the Assembly Committee on Workforce Development and Economic Opportunities, I'm John Mazin, a visiting fellow with FGA Action, where I advocate for legislation that fosters re-employment and workforce growth. I am testifying in support of AB 169.

Out of respect for your time, I'll limit my remarks to the highlights of this bill.

There are almost seven open jobs in Wisconsin for every person applying for unemployment benefits.<sup>1</sup> Wisconsin doesn't have an unemployment problem—it has a labor force shortage.<sup>2</sup> Brands that are household names and recognized as industry leaders across the globe are headquartered here and stake their reputations on Wisconsin's work ethic. But a state known for making the goods that Americans rely on every single day is at risk of falling behind.

This year, Master Lock, known for producing commercial and residential grade locks, announced its intent to relocate its corporate headquarters to Illinois after being in Wisconsin for more than a hundred years. This news came one year after the company moved its manufacturing capabilities out of the state.<sup>3</sup> Other companies have also left Wisconsin, mentioning that the availability of workers was one of the factors that played a role in their decision to move their operations to other states.

One of the fastest ways to deal with Wisconsin's ongoing workforce shortage is to keep people who are still in the labor market—those who are recently unemployed—productively engaged in the workforce. In other words, reforming Wisconsin's unemployment insurance system to better connect unemployed workers with their next job is key to solving this problem.

In order to incentivize work, it is essential to use every tool available to ensure that unemployed workers are making their best efforts to find their next job while on the program and to protect employers from the frustrations of bad-faith work searches by unemployment claimants. While the vast majority of unemployment claimants search for re-employment as required by both state and federal law, the COVID-19 pandemic highlighted the growing problem of some claimants "ghosting" employer job offers and scheduled interviews. Although done by a minority of claimants, this action to bypass current requirements that claimants accept an offer of suitable employment creates unnecessary hassles for Wisconsin employers. In short, claimants will apply to jobs and receive invitations to interview or in some cases, actual job offers; they will then no-show the employer, having only applied to keep their benefits coming.

Eight states, including North Dakota, South Dakota, Kansas, and Tennessee, prohibit UI claimants from ghosting employers while they conduct required work-search activities.<sup>4</sup> The concept is simple: If someone isn't willing to show up for an interview or respond to an offer of employment, they aren't going to receive UI benefits for that week. The unemployment program doesn't exist to pay people to not find a job.<sup>5</sup> AB 149 can make Wisconsin a national leader, protecting employers from the frustrations of bad-faith work searches.

Note that the language contained in AB 149 allows claimants to appeal any penalty for ghosting if they believe the determination was reached in error. Additionally, this bill requires claimants to record and report all job interviews, job offers (including recalls to previous employment), and any other work offers received or responded to. This information must be submitted to the Department of Workforce Development (DWD) for verification. This prevents the denial of benefits due to an incorrect or false accusation that a claimant refused to return to work. Moreover, the practice of verifying reported work-search activities by DWD bolsters the integrity of the program by detecting falsified and bad-faith work-search actions conducted by claimants before they are even reported by employers.

These measures have helped state workforce agencies protect the UI program from waste and fraud and are a success story that illustrates how bold efforts in state capitols across the country can solve a problem of national magnitude.<sup>6</sup>

In closing, AB 169 supports Wisconsin's employers and reinforces the state's world-renowned workforce by ensuring the unemployment program is the best bridge it can be to employment. FGA Action is pleased to offer our support for this legislation.

Thank you for your time today.

Written Testimony on AB 169
Amy Pechacek, Secretary Department of Workforce Development
April 9, 2025

Chair Michalski, Vice-Chair Snyder, Ranking Member Sinicki and Members of the Assembly Committee on Workforce Development, Labor, and Integrated Employment, thank you for the opportunity to provide written testimony for information only on AB 169. Thanks to Representative Knodl for his interest in unemployment insurance integrity.

AB 169 makes various changes to the UI statutes. This bill creates a process for the Department of Workforce Development (DWD) to consider reports by employers of unemployment insurance claimants who decline or fail to respond to a job interview or job offer. Under this bill, failure to attend a job interview is taken under consideration in determining a person's ability to receive unemployment insurance. The bill also requires DWD to provide this information in the Unemployment Insurance Advisory Council's (UIAC) annual fraud report.

Currently, employers are able to report suspected claimant fraud, including fraud related to work search activities such as attending interviews, turning down job offers, and failing to return to employment or turning down employment offers to DWD. DWD already relies on employers to verify information provided by claimants and to bring other eligibility issues to our attention. They may call or write to DWD at any time to raise an eligibility issue, using the Employer Assistance Line and the online Help Center. Any employer that suspects that someone on UI is committing fraud can also report it on DWD's website. DWD reviews all reports and fraud referrals.

It is worth noting that there are confidentiality measures in place that protect identities of claimants required by federal and state law. DWD could provide data on work search investigations to the legislature, but it could not be made available to the public.

Ultimately, the bill is redundant. There are currently processes to address unemployment insurance fraud. Thank you for the opportunity to provide information. As always, please do not hesitate to reach out with any questions.

RE: Support for Assembly Bills 162, 167, 168 and 169; changes to the unemployment insurance law

Wisconsin Manufacturers & Commerce (WMC) appreciates the opportunity to testify in support of Assembly Bills 162, 167, 168 and 169. Thank you, Chairman Melotik, for holding this hearing and highlighting a key concern of employers throughout Wisconsin.

WMC is the largest general business association in Wisconsin, representing approximately 3,800 member companies of all sizes, and from every sector of the economy. Since 1911, our mission has been to make Wisconsin the most competitive state in the nation to do business. That mission includes making sure Wisconsin's employers have a capable and willing workforce.

While the worker shortage has improved for Wisconsin employers recently, too many are still unable to fill key positions. According to WMC's most recent Wisconsin Employer Survey released in January 2025, 63% of employers indicate that they are struggling to hire workers. Employers tell us that it is particularly difficult to find workers with the right skills and training.

Employers are also concerned that many people have simply dropped out of the workforce and are no longer looking for work. Wisconsin's labor force participation rate is currently 65.8%, which is better than the national average. However, it is significantly lower than our state's peak of 74.5% in 1997. Further, it is concerning that our current level is the same as the labor participation rate at the height of the pandemic in April 2020.

This labor participation rate is unsustainable for employers in Wisconsin, especially when coupled with low birth rates. If we want to continue to be a leader in manufacturing, agriculture and other industries, we must have a strong workforce. That is why it is important that government policies do not keep or place individuals on the sidelines.

Assembly Bill 162:

It is important to have a standard set of metrics for all of Wisconsin's workforce development programs. With multiple agencies overseeing a multitude of programs, it is important that the legislature, business community and public can evaluate the effectiveness of each program. This legislation's commonsense requirement to report this data in the same format utilizing the primary indicators of performance under the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) will allow equal evaluation of the quality of each program and will tell us which programs are the best to utilize in the future.

Assembly Bill 167:

WMC members are very supportive of work search audits and additional oversight for enhanced federal benefits. The pandemic supplemental unemployment benefits provided a financial incentive for workers to remain on the sidelines, instead of filling desperately needed jobs. Employers were extremely disappointed that Governor Evers vetoed legislation to end the $300 per week extra unemployment benefit. That would have provided meaningful relief to our economy. In August of 2021, we had an unemployment rate of 3.9%. When the $300 per week benefit finally phased out in September, 36,435 fewer people collected unemployment benefits by December – a 30% drop in just four months. Those people didn't stay home once the extra benefits ended, they went back to work: Wisconsin added 34,854 workers during the same timeframe. Imagine how much more productive our economy could have been if we had stopped paying people not to work sooner.

Assembly Bill 168:

The pandemic showed that flexibility in staffing at the Department of Development (DWD) is vitally important. WMC believes that this bill makes sensible changes to allow employees from other agencies to help alleviate unemployment insurance backlogs at DWD. WMC is also supportive of the requirement to double check a claimant's identity, including weekly crosschecks with prison, employment, immigration and death databases.

Assembly Bill 169:

WMC members continually have individuals miss interviews or fail to respond to interview requests. It is common for employers to have half or even less of their scheduled interviews actually show up. Unemployment insurance claimants are saying they are fulfilling their work search requirements in order to keep benefits, but they are not actually looking for a job. This legislation creates a needed curb on this practice by saying if the claimant does this, they are not considered to have conducted a reasonable search for work in a week and therefore they lose their weekly benefit for that week.

WMC urges members of the Assembly Committee on Workforce Development, Labor and Integrated Employment to vote in support of Assembly Bills 162, 167, 168 and 169. The reforms in these four bills are important for the health of Wisconsin's workforce and will allow employers to stay and expand in Wisconsin. These reforms will encourage people into the workforce and allow them to experience the dignity of work.

Assembly Bills 167, 169, 168, 162

Chair Melotik, members of the Committee, my name is Bill G. Smith, State Director for the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB), and I appear today on behalf of over 10,000 Wisconsin member firms located throughout Wisconsin, and I report to you today that many of these firms are struggling with a full menu of economic challenges:

- Inflation
- Supply issues
- Economic Uncertainty
- Labor issues

Since 1974, NFIB's Research Foundation has collected Small Business Economic Trends data with a quarterly survey of our members, and since 1986, these quarterly snapshots of the small business economy that have been done on a monthly basis emphasizes the small employer labor market.

The bills before the committee today for your consideration would help provide unemployed individuals with incentives and encouragement to join or return to the workforce, while also responding to the worker shortage currently challenging our small business employers.

Assembly Bill 167 would provide important updates to the misconduct statute, creates legislative oversight of enhanced federal benefits and improves the monitoring of the requirements for work search.

Assembly Bill 169 would respond to a common concern from small business employers that too often applicants for jobs fail to show for interviews or report for work when hired.

Statement Before the Assembly Committee on Workforce Development, Labor and Integrated Employment
Wednesday, April 9, 2025

Assembly Bill 168 would make several administrative changes including new procedures to detect fraud, creation of a call center to assist claimants and employers, and a requirement that DWD create an education and training program for employers, employees and claimants.

Assembly Bill 162, the workforce metrics proposal, would provide valuable data and performance related oversight of the workforce under the federal Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act.

The unemployment insurance program is not a welfare program. It is a program designed with the intent to provide temporary financial assistance to those individuals who lose their job through no fault of their own.

Unemployment insurance is an important program, funded by employers, that helps protect communities and small businesses from hardship generated by economic downturns. It provides timely financial assistance to unemployed workers, but it was not intended nor should it provide a disincentive for individuals from seeking and obtaining employment.

According to the March Jobs Report by NFIB's Research Center, 40 percent of small business owners reported job openings they could not fill, up two points from February. Among the 53 percent of owners hiring or trying to hire, 87 percent said they had few or no qualified applicants for the positions they were trying to fill.

Importantly, a net 38 percent reported raising compensation, up 5 points from February. Clearly small business employers are feeling pressured to retain and attract employees.

Clearly, the labor market continues to be a big challenge for small business employers. NFIB supports passage of these bills because they will help put jobs back on Main Street by providing assistance to UI claimants, creating incentives for individuals to join or return to the workforce, and improve the labor participation rate of the state's workforce.

No one has a greater responsibility or ability to lead the economy of our state than our small business owners.

The Legislature has a special obligation, we believe, to ensure that public policies help promote and encourage the creation and growth of small business, and also to sustain the small business community throughout our state.

I hope you found the economic data – specific to small business – that I shared with you to be helpful as you consider public policies that impact our state's vital small business community, and I respectfully urge your support for passage of these important bills relating to unemployment insurance reform.

Thank you.

Chair Melotik and committee members, my name is Brian Dake, President of Wisconsin Independent Businesses. Thank you for the opportunity to testify in support of the Assembly Bill (AB) 167, Assembly Bill (AB) 168, and Assembly Bill (AB) 169.

By way of background, Wisconsin Independent Businesses (WIB) was formed in 1977 to provide small, independent business owners with an effective voice in the legislative and regulatory activities of state government.

We proudly represent nearly 2,000 small, independent business owners throughout Wisconsin. Most of our members, approximately 85%, own and operate businesses that have fewer than 25 employees and annual gross revenues of less than $5 million. Our membership reflects the range of small businesses that exist in communities throughout Wisconsin.

WIB...Helping you where you need it.

PO Box 2125 • Madison, Wisconsin 53701 • 608.262.0644 • www.wib.org

In 2011, we surveyed our members about Wisconsin's Unemployment Insurance (UI) law. From their responses, we developed the following set of objectives to guide our advocacy efforts:

- reduce the state UI tax burden on small businesses;
- increase UI claimant accountability;
- reduce the incidence of UI fraud;
- bring clarity to the enforcement of UI laws and regulations; and
- transition UI claimants back to work quickly.

If enacted into law, these three bills would fulfill these important objectives.

2025 Assembly Bill (AB) 167

To remain eligible for state UI benefits, claimants must conduct at least four weekly work search actions and report them to the Wisconsin Department of Workforce Development (DWD) when filing their weekly UI claim.

State law also requires the DWD to conduct random work search audits and report annually to the Unemployment Insurance Advisory Council on the number and the results of work search audits conducted in the previous year. An analysis of this data for an eight-year period beginning in 2017 is very revealing.

Year	Audits Conducted	Decisions Where Work Search Requirements Were Not Met
2017	33,589	7,452
2018	32,772	6,392
2019	31,263	7,118
2020	766	208 (pandemic)
2021	1,261	962 (pandemic)
2022	22,012	9,045
2023	15,488	6,087
2024	10,626	4,545
Total	147,777	41,809

Over this eight-year period, 28% of all DWD work search audits conducted found that claimants failed to fulfill their weekly work search requirements. Over the three-year period beginning in 2022, 41% of all DWD work search audits conducted found that claimants failed to fulfill their weekly work search requirements.

AB 167 would require the DWD to conduct random audits for at least 50% of all work search actions reported to have been performed by claimants. The DWD work search audit data justifies the need for enhanced work search authentication to ensure UI claimants fulfill their weekly work search requirements.

A guiding principle of the UI program is that benefits are only paid to eligible workers who are unemployed through no fault of their own. Consistent with this principle, employees terminated due to workplace misconduct are ineligible for UI benefits.

With the support of WIB, Wisconsin lawmakers modernized the state's Employee Misconduct law more than a decade ago. 2013 Wisconsin Act 20 defined misconduct and enumerated that misconduct includes seven general actions by an employee for which the terminated employee would be ineligible for UI benefits for a specified period. They are:

- violation of an employer's drug and alcohol policy;
- theft of an employer's property or services;
- conviction of a crime, if the conviction makes it impossible for the employee to perform employment-related duties;
- acts of workplace harassment, assault, or physical violence;
- chronic absenteeism or excessive tardiness;
- falsifying the employer's business records, and;
- willful and deliberate violation of a written and uniformly applied standard for an employer that is licensed or certified by a governmental agency.

Over the last decade, various provisions of this law have been subject to legal challenge, business practices and operations have changed, and unforeseen instances of employee misconduct have arisen. For these reasons, we are pleased that AB 167 would update the Employee Misconduct statute. Of note, this legislation would:

- replace the existing misconduct standard for chronic absenteeism or excessive tardiness with a new standard that is consistent with the unanimous ruling by the Wisconsin Supreme Court in Wisconsin Department of Workforce Development v. Wisconsin Labor and Industry Review Commission (2018);

- enumerate unauthorized distribution of an employer's confidential or proprietary information, and use of an employer's credit card for an unauthorized or a nonbusiness purpose without prior approval from the employer as employee misconduct; and
- enumerate a violation of an employer's reasonable employment policy that covers the use of social media as employee misconduct.

2025 Assembly Bill (AB) 168

Two recent reports from the United States Government Accountability Office (GAO) validate our advocacy efforts focused on reducing UI fraud.

In June 2022, the GAO issued a report to Congress entitled “Unemployment Insurance Transformation Needed to Address Program Design, Infrastructure, and Integrity Risks” in which it advised federal lawmakers that the UI program has been added to its “High Risk” designation list. This extraordinary designation is conferred upon federal programs in need of transformation and/or vulnerable to waste, fraud, abuse, and mismanagement.

In December 2022, the GAO issued a report to Congress entitled “Unemployment Insurance Data Indicate Substantial Level of Fraud during the Pandemic; DOL Should Implement an Antifraud Strategy.” While the GAO chastised the DOL for not implementing an overall UI antifraud strategy, their report provided federal lawmakers with a list of actions taken by the DOL to assist states combat UI fraud. The report noted:

- The DOL provided funding to procure and implement an identity verification solution, which became available to states in July 2020. This service provides new datasets to conduct enhanced UI claimant identity verification by states to prevent fraudulent claims from being paid based on false identities. It also contains a cross match with the Social Security Administration (SSA) Death Master File to identify the use of a deceased person’s Social Security number being used to file for benefits.
- The DOL provided funding to procure and implement a bank account verification service, which became available to states in February 2022. This service aids states in proactively identifying and authenticating bank account information provided by a UI claimant by validating the account status and ensuring the claimant is the owner or authorized user prior to initiating the UI benefit payment.
- The DOL is working with the SSA to establish a secure data exchange that allows states to cross match UI claims data with incarceration records. While some states have access to various local, state, or federal incarceration cross matches, the DOL encouraged all states to regularly cross match UI claims against prisoner records to ensure UI benefits are only paid to eligible individuals.

This GAO report also footnoted an August 11, 2021, Unemployment Insurance Program Letter (UIPL) from the DOL in which the agency “strongly encouraged all states to implement NIST-compliant identity proofing, specifically IAL 2 and AAL 2, before claimants start filling out the UI claims application and for re-accessing their account.”

The DWD is currently in the process of modernizing its UI information system. With funding and resources available from the DOL, the time is now for the State of Wisconsin to adopt the UI fraud prevention recommendations from the GAO and the DOL.

Passage of AB 168 would ensure that happens.

2025 Assembly Bill (AB) 169

“Ghosting” is a dubious practice in which a prospective employee does not show up for a scheduled job interview or respond to an offer of employment from an employer. While employers cannot legally compel a prospective employee to sit for a job interview or respond to a job offer, “ghosting” by a UI claimant could be a fraudulent act.

AB 169 sets forth a process whereby a Wisconsin employer may voluntarily report a potential instance of “ghosting” to the Wisconsin Department of Workforce Development (DWD) for further investigation. If the Department determines a UI claimant was engaged in “ghosting,” he\she would be ineligible for UI benefits for the week in which the “ghosting” occurred.

Conclusion

We respectfully ask for your support of AB 167, AB 168, and AB 169.

Thank you in advance for your consideration.

RE: Opposition to unemployment bills AB169, AB167, AB168, and AB164

Modest support for unemployment bill AB146

Dear Committee staff, representatives, and senators:

I am opposed to AB169, AB167, AB168, and AB164 as needless, legally problematic, and likely to create more harm than accomplishing any actual change. While I cannot testify at the public hearings scheduled for these bills given the sudden and rushed action being taken, I hope you will consider the information I am providing here.

First, some context is important. For 2025, initial claims for unemployment insurance are on a path to set a new record low (previously set in 2023). Data from DWD (<https://dwd.wisconsin.gov/uistats/>) shows claim-filing for the last several years (as current data for 2025 is only available through week 13, weekly data is only pictured for those weeks even though yearly data is available for previous years):

w/e	Week	2025 Claims	2024 Claims	2023 Claims	2022 Claims	2021 claims	2019 claims	2025/2024 ratio	2025/2023 ratio

w/e	Week	2025 Claims	2024 Claims	2023 Claims	2022 Claims	2021 claims	2019 claims	2025/2024 ratio	2025/2023 ratio
For all available weeks:		70,568	247,452	233,316	263,150	528,409	289,528	94.55%	94.17%

As evident here, 2023 (and 2024) surpassed the previous record low year for initial claims in Wisconsin, 2019, to set a new record low for initial claims in a year. So far, 2025 is on pace to have even fewer initial claims than 2023, as initial claims are running 94.55% of the pace set in 2024 and 94.17% of the pace set in 2023. This record low number of initial claims is occurring despite the spikes in initial claims for weeks 8 and 9 when mass layoffs of probationary employees in the federal sector took place (from this data, it appears that over 2,000 additional, new initial claims were filed in these two weeks).

To put these numbers in perspective: in 2007 (before the Great Recession struck Wisconsin in 2008) there were 638,548 initial claims, and 332,982 claimants were actually paid unemployment benefits that year. The current, incredibly low number of initial claims being filed in Wisconsin indicates that unemployment claims are becoming little more than an after-thought to most Wisconsin workers. As I have written previously:

So, unemployment has become less and less an issue for Wisconsin workers. The data right now indicates that the vast majority of claims are filed in the winter months, when scores of businesses like landscaping, road building, some construction, and others cannot operate because of winter conditions.

"Legislature pushes a bunch of no-reform unemployment proposals" (11 April 2023) (<https://wisconsinui.wordpress.com/2023/04/11/legislature-pushes-a-bunch-of-no-reform-unemployment-proposals/>).

The current proposals in AB162, AB169, AB167, AB168, and AB164 will do nothing to make unemployment more useful and efficient for Wisconsin workers and employers.

- AB169: This bill recirculates the 2023 AB149 bill. The Department, however, already encourages employers to report this work search information. See, e.g., Refused Work (<https://www.dwd.wisconsin.gov/ui201/b7201.htm#refused-work>), Work Available with Current Employer (<https://www.dwd.wisconsin.gov/ui201/b7201.htm#work-available>), and Report Unemployment Fraud (<https://www.dwd.wisconsin.gov/ui/fraud/report.htm>). All of these employee actions would also lead to a loss of benefits, IF the person was claiming benefits at the time. In short, this proposal pretends that the labor supply is growing and that there are numerous unemployed people looking for jobs while claiming unemployment benefits, when the claim-filing data indicates the exact opposite. There is in reality a shortage of workers and employers are competing among themselves to hire workers from each other.
- AB167: This bill recirculates the 2023 AB147 bill. This expansion of Beres and accidental damage raises a serious risk of Wisconsin employers losing their FUTA tax exemption, because the misconduct penalty of lost wages in a benefit year can only be applied to intentional employee conduct.<sup>1</sup> The proposed changes regarding social media,

1 It also ignores Bevco Precision Mfg. Co. v. LIRC, 2024 WI App 54 ¶18, 413 Wis.2d 668, 12 N.W.3d 552 (review denied), where the court of appeals concluded "that Beres holds that violation of an employer's attendance policy of which an employee is aware (as

job registration in other states for those with combined wage claims (regardless of whether job registration is even available in other states), work search auditing for claims in which no benefits are paid (at present, the Department only audits claims in which benefits are paid, and audits nearly all employees who receive unemployment benefits), and Joint Finance Committee approval for emergency federally-funded benefits demonstrate a basic lack of understanding of how unemployment claim-filing is actually being administered.

- AB168: This bill recirculates the 2023 AB152 bill, with some modifications. In general, the bill does nothing but put into statute current Department practices and resources for administering unemployment claim-filing. While I certainly can find things with which to criticize the Department, putting current practices into statute accomplishes nothing but hamstringing the Department when new practices and resources emerge. There simply is no sound reason to limit administrative discretion without any recognition that times and issues will change.
- AB164: This bill features a more limited embrace of the transformation of unemployment into reemployment assistance of 2023 AB150 bill. As currently framed, this bill is little more than busy work regarding name changes and accomplishes almost nothing of substance.

Unfortunately, the one bill that is addressing a sorely needed problem, AB146, and the short timelines small employers have to respond to Department inquiries is getting no hearing and apparently no legislative support. In this proposal, the legislature wants to extend the time for employers to respond to Department inquiries for employee separations to twelve days. While this proposal is problematic, there are several reasons for why it is raising an important issue for many small employers.

Enclosed is a listing of the 658 unemployment warrants issued by the Department in March of 2025. I will bet anyone a good Wisconsin beer that close to 500 of these warrants are against employers. Because the unemployment portal is so difficult to manage, small employers are having a nearly impossible time paying their unemployment taxes properly. For example:

- 2025UC000603 / Dartmouth College in New Hampshire owes $854.00 in taxes, $171.92 in fees, and $10.00 in fees
- 2025UC000300 / Funimation Productions LLC in Texas owes $116.00 in taxes, $1.94 in interest, $100.00 in penalties ($50 per missed quarter), and $20.53 in fees.
- 2025UC000029 / Ars Child Care Inc. in Eau Claire owes $395.77 in taxes, $6.60 in interest, $737.63 in penalties, and $10.00 in fees.
- 2025UC000020 / Lighthouse Lakesresort LLC in Lake Geneva owes $522.15 in taxes, $22.19 in interest, $100 in penalties ($50 per missed quarter), and $10 in fees.
- 2025UC000077 / Westfahl Plumbing Co. in Brookfield owes $4.26 in taxes, $0.04 in interest, $200.00 in penalties ($50 per missed quarter), and $10 in fees.

evidenced by a signed acknowledgement of receipt) constitutes 'misconduct' for the purpose of disqualification from unemployment benefits."

While large employers have paid representatives to monitor and respond to Department inquiries, small employers too often have no one managing their unemployment accounts. As a result, reporting discrepancies are not caught until fees, penalties, and interest are charged.<sup>2</sup> In my ten plus years of representing employers in unemployment matters, I have yet to come across a small employer that has any process or even access setup for online management of their unemployment account prior to my representation. But, with the push for online-only filing, more and more small employers are being hit with these fees and penalties for reasons that they do not understand and are not even aware of until these warrants are issued.

It is this background for why the response time is such an issue for small employers, especially with the delays in postal mail that become widespread in Wisconsin over the last several years (a large envelope takes 4-5 days from one Madison address to another Madison address, and such an envelope to an address in Beaver Dam can take 7 to 10 days).

So, getting some opportunity to respond to Department inquiries is essential. But, mandating a twelve day window for responding to Department inquiries will likely run afoul of the requirements in California Department of Human Resources Development v. Java, 402 U.S. 121, 91 S.Ct. 1347, 28 L.Ed.2d 666 (1971) that unemployment benefits be paid "when due." What seems more doable is for the Department to indicate a mechanism to employers to ask for an extension.

Typically, Department representatives will automatically agree to an extension when an extension is requested. But, the Department does not disclose that practice and instead mandates deadlines for responding to its queries. So, an obvious and effective solution especially in light of the delays with postal mail and the lack of portal access and use is for the Department to include notice about requesting an extension with its queries. Such a solution keeps the Department from running afoul of Java while also offering needed flexibility to small employers.

If you have questions or need additional information, please contact me via the information above. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Victor Forberger
